Connect

Talking to others and taking part in school activities is good for your mental health.

Created by: South Western Sydney Local Health District Health Promotion Service